

THEOLOGISCHE
HOCHSCHULE
FRIEDENSAU

Friedensau Adventist University (Theologische Hochschule Friedensau) is a state-recognized institution of higher education of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. It has a School of Social Sciences and a School of Theology.

The School of Social Sciences offers the following position

Tenure Track Position (Juniorprofessur) in International Social Work

We expect from the candidate a central contribution for the development of the Bachelor Program in International Social Work, which the School of Social Sciences plans to launch within the next years. With this English-taught program we seek to address an international student body.

We are looking for a candidate with a background in Social Work and international experience. The candidate should have strong research interests, substantial teaching experience (in English) and the willingness to contribute to the work of the academic committees. Personal research interests should include one or more of the following fields within international social work: gender and intersectionality, migration and refugee studies or development studies. Basic knowledge of German language is required.

The offered Juniorprofessur is a 6-years tenure track position, with one evaluation after 3 years and a second one at the end. After successful evaluations, the position will be transformed into a full professorship.

The following application requirements must be documented in accordance with § 40 Hochschulgesetz Sachsen-Anhalt (HSG LSA): a completed Master-level university degree, proven teaching skills, and the ability for scientific research, evidenced by a doctorate in a relevant field.

The candidate should be member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

We offer a working position on a green campus institution with an international body of students and a supportive, dedicated team. Our student groups are of manageable size and allow personal interaction and a familial campus atmosphere. It would be desirable if the applicant has or will have his residence in the vicinity of Friedensau.

Further inquiries about this position can be directed to the Dean of the School of Social Sciences, Prof. Dr. Thomas Spiegler (thomas.spiegler@thh-friedensau.de).

Applications with current CV, including teaching experience and list of publications, should be sent to the Office of the Rector, Friedensau Adventist University, attn. of Michelle Koch in digital form only by 15th December 2021.
